

PROCEDURES FOR OPENING A CHILDREN'S CENTER

We hope you will find this information beneficial in making your decision regarding operating a children's center in Pinellas County.

Please contact the Child Care Licensing Program office and a licensing specialist will be assigned to assist you based on the zip code where the proposed children's center will be located.

Licensing of children's centers and family day care homes began in Pinellas County in 1951 when the Florida legislature passed a special act specifically for our county. A new law was passed in 1957 and in 1961, Chapter 61-2681 was passed and was later amended by Chapter 70-893. Regulations are enforced by the License Board, which is composed of individuals assigned by the agencies noted in the special act. The License Board has the authority to promulgate rules, to interpret the regulations, and to take action for license approval, denial of application or revocation of license. The State of Florida enacted the state law, Chapter 402, Sections 301-319 in 1974. The law allows individual counties to continue to operate under a special act or ordinance provided that they meet or exceed state regulations including Chapter 65C-22, Florida Administrative Code.

The licensing program is designed to perform its regulatory function to protect children while in early care and education settings and in before and after school programs. Licensing works best when it is a partnership between the Child Care Licensing Program staff and the providers with a goal of compliance with regulations.

In addition to the regulatory function, the Child Care Licensing Program also provides technical assistance and consultation through conferences, training, and fingerprinting and notary services.

PROCEDURES FOR OPENING A NEW CHILDREN'S CENTER

1. Contact the assigned licensing specialist concerning questions about the application process. The licensing specialist will provide technical assistance, consultation, conferences to review requirements and paperwork, and schedule children's center inspections as needed throughout the process.
2. Contact the zoning department of the applicable municipality to verify if zoning will permit the type of program you wish to offer. Check for impact fees, restrictions, and variances.
3. Request preliminary inspections from building, electrical, and fire departments at the city hall in your municipality or the county building. Check for impact fees, restrictions, and variances.
4. Radon Testing Requirements – Florida Statute 404.056 and Chapter 64E-5 Part XII B require that indoor radon levels must be measured in licensed child care facilities located in counties designated within the “Intermediate” or “Elevated Radon Potential” areas. These include 48 counties out of 67 counties, and Pinellas County is one of these counties. Tests must be completed within 1 year after the child care facility starts operation and then again at the 5 year mark from that test date. These mandatory tests are to be conducted in accordance with Florida Statute 404.056, Chapter 64E-5 Part XII B, and Mandatory Radon Testing Protocols and reported to the Department of Health on forms DH1777 or DH1778.
5. Call the Child Care Licensing Program and speak to the Environmental Health Specialist that monitors your area, to discuss health requirements relating to operating a children's center. Discuss regulations for food service including snack preparation with an Environmental Specialist I. They will work with you to determine if you will need a full food license or a limited food service agreement and instruct you on the proper paperwork procedure for each.

It is important to complete the procedures as outlined above before investing in any property for use as a licensed children's center, a program religiously exempt from licensure, or a nonpublic pre-kindergarten program.

6. Download a copy of the Licensing Regulations Governing Pinellas County Children's Centers and Children's Center Forms from www.pclb.org. If you are unable to obtain the information in this manner, contact our office, and we will provide you with hard copies of the document that you need.

Supporting documentation regarding ownership of a children's center requires one or more of the following:

 - b) the name and address of every member if a firm, partnership, or other group (e.g. a church or agency not incorporated); or

- Corporation Information. If a corporation owns the children's center, current and active corporation status must be documented. Renewal of the corporation is due annually in order to maintain "active status." If the corporation status becomes inactive, there is no legal ownership of the children's center, and the care of children must cease.
- Fictitious Name Registration. Florida Statutes Chapter 865.09 requires registration of a "Fictitious name" if the name of the children's center is any name other than the owner's legal name (e.g. name of individual owner, corporation, church, etc).

You may access the fictitious name and/or corporation information through one of the following websites:

www.sunbiz.org

10. Request an appointment with your licensing specialist for inspection of the center, which includes verification of indoor and outdoor space and equipment, supplies, and records.

The license fee, based on the requested capacity, must be submitted prior to issuance of a temporary permit. A temporary permit will be issued when all requirements are met.

After the temporary permit is issued and prior to its expiration date, the Child Care Licensing Program staff will make inspections and review the children's center's Child Care Licensing Program file for compliance with regulations to determine if a license will be recommended for Child Care Licensing Program approval. If regulations are not maintained, Child Care Licensing Program staff may recommend that the License Board extend the temporary permit or deny application.

PROCEDURE FOR CHANGE OF OWNERSHIP OF A CHILDREN'S CENTER

The license of a children's center is not transferable. If the sale of a children's center takes place prior to the buyer meeting requirements for a temporary permit, the center cannot continue operating unless the seller agrees to be held responsible under the current license. The Change of Ownership Agreement Form is to be submitted to the License Board office to document that this will occur. If the center is sold prior to a temporary permit being issued and no agreement is on file, the children's center must cease care of children.

Any change in ownership must be processed and approved as mandated in licensing regulations. Parents must be notified at least one week prior to the change of ownership of a children's center. One of the following methods of notification to parents or guardians must be observed:

- Posting notice in a conspicuous location at the children's center
- Incorporating information in any existing newsletter
- Individual letters or flyers

The new owner should be aware that the capacity on the current license could change when a temporary permit is issued. For example, if the new owner wishes to add infant care, the capacity could be reduced. The capacity on the temporary permit is affected by the number of current staff and the number of current staff meeting the credentialing requirement.

This above procedure is not applicable if the center is owned by a corporation and the buyer is purchasing the existing corporation. However, the new stockholders shall provide screening documentation and personnel information as required by law.

The licensing procedures for a prospective owner include:

1. Contact the assigned licensing specialist concerning questions about the application process. The licensing specialist will provide technical assistance, consultation, conferences to review requirements, paperwork, and an on site inspection will be scheduled during the process.
2. Contact the zoning department of the applicable municipality to verify if zoning will permit the type of program you wish to offer. Check for impact fees, restrictions, and variances that may change with a change of ownership.

4. Call the Child Care Licensing Program and speak to the Environmental Health Specialist that monitors your area to set an appointment to discuss health requirements relating to operating a children's center. Discuss regulations for food service including snack preparation
